

TAYLOR

Walk Features: This loop walk takes you from a car park to playgrounds, and along water courses and ridges and close to wetlands.

Duration of the walk: About 1 hour and 40 minutes.

Region: Gungahlin.

Information about the Suburb: was established in 1991 and named after magazine publisher Florence Mary Taylor, who was editor of and writer for several Australian building industry journals including the influential Building magazine. Until 1991, the suburb Taylor was part of the former 'Gold Creek' a 1,594–hectare rural property with the Gold Creek Homestead at its centre. Development of the suburb began in 2017.
